

SUICIDE ON THE SIDEWALK.

One Shot to Test the Revolver, Another for Instant Death.

Tailor Schwalm Chose the Dawn of Day to End His Life.

Jacob Schwalm, a German tailor, thirty-two years old, took his life at about 4 o'clock this morning by shooting himself on the sidewalk opposite 363 West Thirty-sixth street.

A policeman heard two shots, and running up found the suicide lying dead. He had seated himself on the curbstone and then fired one shot into the gutter to see if the pistol was working.

A few weeks ago he made up his mind to go to Europe in the hope that the sea voyage would benefit him. He sold out all his belongings and scraped up enough money to pay for his passage.

Last Wednesday he was to have sailed. He had his friends good-bye and left to go on board the steamer. He came back, however, and said he was too sick to go. He was very feeble and it was with difficulty that he kept on his feet.

The suicide's body was taken to the West Thirty-seventh street police station and the coroner was notified.

WAY OFF COLOR.

The loss of health! Who can mistake it? The white hair, the deepened tint of the cheek, these associated with brightness and animation of the face, a heavy expression of the countenance, are infallible indices that the liver is performing its functions actively, and that consequently the complexion and appetite have a healthy tint, of the face is drawn and void of sprightliness and animation.
